Modern Day Slavery & Human Trafficking Awareness Workshop

Thursday 28th June: 13:00 – 17:00

(Please arrive 10 minutes early for a prompt start)

The Hockney Suite, Margaret McMillan Tower, Bradford, BD1 1NN

An interactive workshop for frontline professionals and volunteers. On completion of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Explain what Modern Slavery is and the different types that exist;
- Recognise the signs/indicators of different types of modern slavery;
- Respond appropriately to a victim / case of human slavery.

Participants will hear inputs from Paul Jones, Modern Slavery Trainer at West Yorkshire Police, who will give an overview of the current statistics and cases examples in Bradford and West Yorkshire and Sara Squires, Training Manager at Hope for Justice, will then discuss support available for victims and referral pathways. This event will also show Henry's Story, a Bradford Safeguarding Stories Production.

To book please email sara.squires@hopeforjustice.org stating your name, job title and organisation.
