

A Safeguarding Week Event: Safeguarding: What's different for disabled children?

This 2 hour workshop is designed to give staff in universal services an insight into the issues which are specific to safeguarding disabled children.

Including:

- Recognising why the risk factors for child abuse are increased for disabled children.
- Discussing some of the signs of abuse
- Knowing how to respond when you have a safeguarding concern
 - effective support and respectful challenge
- Exploring good practice tools

Presenter

Jackie Bateman, independent safeguarding trainer, with over 20 years' experience working with disabled children and their families.

Target Audience

This is aimed at frontline staff in all universal services, who may support disabled children and their families as part of their role. For example - children's centre staff, nursery staff, staff in universal play, health and education services.
